AAS Summer Summit

8/7/2012 - 8/9/2012

Michigan

For the first time ever, the AAS organization takes their meeting to Michigan, the fifth largest horticulture production state in the U.S. The event will begin in Lansing, Michigan with a tour of the Michigan State University Trials and Gardens then travel to C. Raker and Sons to see their extensive trials, including AAS Display Gardens at both locations.

The next day will take you to the western part of the state to visit several growers and trial sites in the Kalamazoo and Grand Rapids area, including a Thursday night dinner at the famed Frederik Meijer Gardens and Sculpture Park.
